

Beyond Tears Worldwide is a 501(c)3 non-profit humanitarian aid and development organization incorporated in December of 2002. BTW works together with various national and international agencies and private individuals to reach out to indigenous people in remote areas worldwide to provide humanitarian aid and development programs selflessly. We believe that we can show God's love by helping those who are oppressed, economically distressed, or impacted by war and refugee status.

“O Come, O Come, Emmanuel...”

These words have been ringing in my head and heart these past few days. The word Emmanuel refers to Jesus in the New Testament. However, historically, in the Old Testament it signifies God's protection.

Recall at this season where you are right now in life and where you are in this world. We need the message of hope and salvation that God gives us in His Son. The world and all creation are seriously groaning and earnestly calling for Jesus' return. We need protection from so many things. We are often broken in so many ways...

The HOPE for each of us is found in Jesus! God has shown his love for us by protecting His creation by remaining faithful to provide us a way to renew our relationship with Him through Christ. Whatever you do, wherever you go, whomever you are with, always remember God wants you to include Him in whatever you are doing. He is the reason for the Season. The gift-giving is only a remembrance of the greatest gift given for our Salvation. The joy in receiving is because the gift is freely given.

Be blessed this Christmas! Know Him who can protect, love and comfort you like no other. His tender mercies are unconditionally given to you.

In the name of Jesus, celebrate!
